Two villages join the ranks of Switzerland's most beautiful locations

Two new members have joined the circle of the most beautiful villages in Switzerland: Grüningen, in the Zurich Oberland region and Bursins, a wine-growing hamlet in Vaud.

The two were added to the existing roster by the "The most beautiful villages in Switzerland" association.

Grüningen has earned its place among the best of the best because it is a "charming countryside village, with three museums, the botanical garden (unique in its kind) and the varied natural landscape".

As for Bursins, "the quiet wine-growing village is surrounded by beautiful vineyards and offers magnificent views over Lake Geneva.
